

Wednesday 7 December 2022

The UK's FDI position post Brexit And COVID

The second briefing in a regular series about Foreign Direct Investment in the UK has been published on our website. This edition focuses on the uneven spatial distributions of investments across the country. The report is a collaboration between Warwick Business School and Moody's Analytics and is funded by TPI.

UK productivity: international comparisons and collaboration

Dirk Pilat has written a blog about his current work at The Productivity Institute. He says that international comparisons and collaboration are key to understanding the UK's productivity challenges.

Between a rock and a hard place: regional growth policies

TPI co-investigator Nigel Driffield has written an insight paper about the trade offs between prosperity and reducing inequality when implementing regional growth policies. The research was conducted with other academics at Aston Business School and The West Midlands Regional Economic Development Institute.

Report of the commission on the UK's future

TPI academics Diane Coyle, Philip McCann, Richard

Jones, Marianne Sensier and Andy Westwood have been referenced in the Labour Party's report. You can review the institute's expertise in A new Britain: Renewing our democracy and rebuilding our economy. Report of the Commission on the UK's future. Philip McCann was also an adviser and a member of the commission.

Leveraging productivity to drive business performance

The Conference Board and TPI have released a new report looking at how businesses can leverage productivity to generate strategic alignment behind a common language and drive performance. The report is based on our Strategic Productivity for the Leadership Team publication.

National Productivity Year: 60 years on November 2022 marked 60 years since the launch of the National Productivity Year. Read TPI's summary of the lessons and insights we can gain from productivity in 1962. The briefing is based on Nicola Pike and Josh Martin's blog about the anniversary.

Economic Statistics Centre of Excellence: the next five years

Our partner institution ESCoE is hosting an event in London looking at its current and future research. Register for the 12 December half-day event on ESCoE's website.

Quantum technologies and business model innovation

Read TPI co-investigator Chander Velu's study into the adoption of cutting edge technologies and how firms and policymakers should prepare for them. Chander is also working on a project about business model innovation for The Productivity Institute.

Previous Newsletters

If you are newly subscribed or just missed previous editions, you can access old eBulletins from The Productivity Institute on our website.

International Productivity Monitor

Read past editions of the International Productivity Monitor, the joint flagship publication of the Centre for the Study of Living Standards (CSLS) in Canada and The Productivity Institute, on our website.

Upcoming Events

7 December Elvira Uyarra's Original Thinking Lecture at AMBS - 17:30-18:30. Book on AMBS website.

7 December The Paradox of Vocational Education from the Centre for Economic Performance. Register online for the evening event.

12 December Scale-Up Forum Annual Review 2022 event. Register on the AMBS website.

11 January Brown Bag seminar (TPI academics only). Jun Du.

18 January Brown Bag seminar (TPI academics only). Chris Warhurst & Derek Bosworth.

TPI Publications

Working Papers and Productivity Insight Papers can be found on our website.

You are receiving this email as we believe you to be legitimately interested in hearing about relevant news and events from The Productivity Institute. If this is not the case you can unsubscribe at any point by emailing tpi@manchester.ac.uk or by clicking 'unsubscribe' below.

Funded by the Economic and Social Research Council

The Productivity Institute, Headquarters: Alliance Manchester Business School, Booth Street West, The University of Manchester, Manchester, Manchester M15 6PB, England

Unsubscribe

Send free email today

HubSpot

